3. Legislation and Guidance

This policy is informed by the following legislation and guidance:

- Public Sector Equality Duty (Equality Act 2010): Mandates the elimination of discrimination and the advancement of equality of opportunity.

4. Inclusion and Equal Opportunities

At QUEST Trust, we strive to create an inclusive teaching environment that offers all pupils, regardless of their needs and abilities, a broad, balanced, and challenging curriculum. We are committed to making reasonable adjustments to teaching, the curriculum, and the school environment to ensure that pupils with SEND are included in all aspects of school life.

5. Definitions

5.1 Special Educational Needs

A pupil has special educational needs (SEN) if they have a learning difficulty or disability that requires special educational provision to be made for them. They have a learning difficulty or disability if they:

- Have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than most others of the same age, or
- Have a disability that prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age.

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

5.2 Disability

Pupils are considered to have a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to do normal daily activities. The school will make reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities, so that they are not at a substantial disadvantage compared with their peers.

5.3 The 4 areas of need

The needs of pupils with SEND are grouped into 4 broad areas:

- Communication and interaction needs
- Cognition and learning needs
- Social, emotional, and mental health needs
- Sensory and/or physical needs

Pupils may have needs that span multiple areas, and these needs can evolve over time.

8. Our approach to SEND support

8.1 Identifying Pupils with SEND and Assessing Their Needs

At QUEST Trust, we understand the critical importance of early identification of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) to ensure that all pupils receive the necessary support to thrive academically and socially. Our approach to identifying pupils with SEND is proactive and systematic, ensuring that we build on existing knowledge and provide timely interventions.

Early Identification

The benefits of early identification of SEND are widely recognised. Identifying needs at the earliest point and making effective provision improves long-term outcomes for the child or young person. Our commitment to early identification is reflected in our comprehensive assessment processes.

Assessment Process

1. Initial Assessment: Upon joining the school, we assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment. This assessment builds on information from previous educational settings and Key Stages, ensuring continuity in their learning journey.
2. Consideration of Disabilities: We are vigilant in considering any evidence that a pupil may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010. If such evidence is identified, we will assess what reasonable adjustments may be necessary to support the pupil effectively.
3. Regular Progress Monitoring: Class teachers play a pivotal role in monitoring the progress of all pupils. They will regularly assess and identify pupils whose progress:
  - Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline.
  - Fails to match or better the pupil's previous rate of progress.
  - Fails to close the attainment gap between the pupil and their peers.
  - Widens the attainment gap.

This progress monitoring includes not only academic attainment but also wider development and social needs.

4. Targeted Interventions: When a teacher identifies a pupil making slow progress, they will implement differentiated, high-quality teaching targeted at the pupil's specific areas of weakness. If there is no improvement in progress, the teacher will consult with the Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCO) or SEND Lead Teacher to discuss the possibility of a special educational need.
5. Holistic Consideration of Factors: We understand that slow progress and low attainment do not automatically indicate a SEND. Therefore, we will consider potential short-term causes impacting behaviour or performance, such as bullying or bereavement. We will also take particular care in identifying and assessing SEND for pupils whose first language is not English.

8.2 Consulting and Involving Pupils and Parents

When determining whether a pupil requires special educational provision, we will begin with the desired outcomes, including expected progress and attainment, alongside the views and wishes of the pupil and their parents. This collaborative approach will guide us in deciding the necessary support, whether it involves adapting our core offer or implementing additional provisions.

Regular Communication

- Schools provide an annual report for parents on their child's progress, with regular opportunities for more frequent updates as required.
- Schools engage parents in discussions at least three times a year to set clear outcomes, review progress, and discuss strategies to support their child.

Involving Pupils

- The views of the pupil should be included in discussions about their learning and support. This could involve directly engaging the pupil in conversations or gathering their views beforehand.

8.3 The Graduated Approach to SEN Support

Our approach to SEN support follows a graduated model, which includes:

1. Assess: Regular assessments will be conducted to identify pupils' needs and monitor their progress.
2. Plan: Based on assessments, we will create a plan that outlines the support required, desired outcomes, and the strategies to be implemented.
3. Do: High-quality teaching and targeted interventions will be delivered to address the identified needs.
4. Review: Regular reviews will be conducted to evaluate the effectiveness of the support provided and make necessary adjustments.

8.4 Levels of Support

We recognise that pupils may require different levels of support based on their individual needs:

- Universal Support: High-quality teaching strategies and interventions provided to all pupils.
- Targeted Support: Additional support for pupils who require more focused adaptations and interventions to address specific areas of difficulty.
- Special Educational Provision: For pupils identified as having SEND, we will implement tailored support. This may be through an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) when necessary.

8.5 Evaluating the Effectiveness of SEN Provision

To ensure that our SEN provision is effective, we will:

1. Monitor Progress: Regularly track the progress of pupils receiving SEN support to assess the impact of interventions.
2. Gather Feedback: Collect feedback from pupils, parents, and staff to evaluate the effectiveness of support strategies.
3. Review and Adapt: Use the information gathered to review the SEN provision regularly and make adjustments as needed to improve outcomes for pupils.
4. Collaborate with External Agencies: Where necessary, we will work with external specialists to ensure that our approaches are evidence-based and effective.

9. Expertise and Training of Staff

We are committed to ensuring that all staff receive appropriate training to support pupils with SEND. This includes:

- Regular professional development opportunities focused on inclusive practises.
- Collaboration with external specialists to enhance staff knowledge and skills.
